Putting Your Garden to Bed

Saturday, November 12, 11:00 AM - 12:00 PM
Snug Harbor Cultural Center & Botanical Garden
1000 Richmond Terr. (Compost Demonstration Site)

Do you feel that crisp autumn breeze? Well, so does your garden! In this workshop, come learn some techniques to prepare your garden for the cold season. We'll use compost to plant cover crops, apply mulch covers to planting beds, and sow cold weather crops for next spring.

Workshops are free, but registration is recommended. Register at <http://goo.gl/forms/glpBEIPeJq>

The NYC Compost Project works to rebuild NYC's soils by providing New Yorkers with the knowledge, skills and opportunities they need to produce and use compost locally. The project is funded and managed by the NYC Department of Sanitation's Bureau of Recycling and Sustainability.

Compost Give Back

Saturday, November 12, 11:00 AM - 3:00 PM
Conference House Park (Visitor Center Parking Lot)

We will be giving away 15 pound bags of DSNY Compost – while supplies last.

Limit 2 bags per household if registered by November 11, 12:00 PM. Unregistered participants will receive 1 bag.

To register visit our page at

Hot Pile Build @ Joe Holzka Community Garden

Saturday, November 19, 11:00 AM – 2:00 PM
Corner of Barker St. & Castleton Ave.

Find out how composting can really heat things up! Help us process 500 pounds of food scraps collected by GrowNYC from local Greenmarkets at one of Staten Island's oldest community gardens.

Leaf Bag Distribution

We're giving away free leaf bags!

For information about where you can pick them up in Staten Island please visit our page at <http://snug-harbor.org/compost/>

LOCAL ORGANICS RECOVERY

Drop off your food scraps and we'll compost them locally!

Help us select new sites by taking our survey.
